HIGH-DOSAGE TUTORING FOR EVERY STUDENT

We offer all day students access to unlimited live tutoring accessible to all students 24/7/365, on any device. Live subject expert tutors are available whenever and wherever students need it. No scheduling is required. High-dosage tutoring is provided to ensure students understand the concepts behind their questions.

High-dosage tutoring (HDT), also known as high-impact tutoring, is an evidence-based practice that helps schools address learning gaps—and accelerate learning generally—through more intensive and personalized support for students.

Studies have shown that HDT programs accelerate learning, combat educational inequities, and are highly cost-effective relative to other educational interventions. Not surprisingly, school districts have been adopting high-impact tutoring at unprecedented rates.
